

Truckloads of Help

Working closely with the Center for People in Need, Lincoln Housing Charities participates in the Truckloads of Help Program. Through the program, the Center for People in Need obtains donated items from Gifts-in-Kind which is a national clearinghouse for large companies and corporations which donate new products to be given to charities throughout the nation. Products are offered in large quantities (pallets and truckloads) and include personal care products, clothing, household items, and office products. The Center for People in Need distributes the products to participating agencies who, in turn, redistribute these items at no cost to low income families and individuals.

The Carol Yoakum Family Resource Center, Mahoney Manor, Burke Plaza, and Crossroads House all participate in the program through Lincoln Housing Charities.
